Conferences

YoungOR 17 Conference

YoungOR 17

Congratulations!

Congratulations to everyone who was involved in organising, speaking and contributing in any way to a very successful YoungOR 17 conference in Nottingham this April. The winners of the prizes are as follows:

The Elsie Cropper Shield for the Best Paper at a Young OR Conference

Winner - Elisabeth zu Erbach-Schoenberg, University of Southampton (co-authors Sally Brailsford and Seth Bullock, University of Southampton).

The O.R. Insight Prize for an outstanding paper on an application of O.R. given at YoungOR 17.

Winner - Atim Etim, Department of Health, London.

The DEA Stream Prize

Winner - Binta Tijjani-Jibril, Bayero University, Kano, Nigeria.
Paper - ‘Measuring the Technical Efficiency of Traditional Quranic Education System (Almajirci) using Data Envelopment Analysis’.

The Soft Methods Stream Prize

Winner - Tessa Berg, Heriot Watt University, Edinburgh (co-author Rob Pooley, Heriot Watt University).