

Volunteer judge wanted for the Ranyard medal

Every two years, The OR Society awards the Ranyard Medal for the best paper appearing in the Journal of Business Analytics. We're seeking a volunteer to join the judging panel for this award.

Applications must be in by midday on Friday 12 December.

All papers published in the qualifying period are assessed and a shortlist of potential winners is produced. This shortlist is combined with the editors' recommendations for final assessment to select a winning paper using the following criteria:

- impact on the real world, including OR/IS community (actual impact)
- relevance to the real world (potential impact)
- degree of innovation
- quality of technical content
- quality of writing

How to Apply

If you're interested in taking up this voluntary role, please contact our Head of Professional Services Carol McLaughlin carol.mclaughlin@theorsociety.com. Please enclose a short CV.

Diverse representation within our awards panels is important to ensure we include a range of opinions and viewpoints in our decision-making. We are keen to continue developing diversity within the Awards Panel and would welcome applications from all groups, particularly under-represented ones.

Further details of the award can be found here:

<https://www.theorsociety.com/ORS/Membership/Awards/Medals/Ranyard-Medal.aspx>