

Energy Market and Regulatory Consultants – Senior Consultants and Analysts – Edinburgh/ Abuja

Energy Market and Regulatory Consultants Limited (EMRC) are independent consultants providing energy market, regulatory, techno-economic and financing advice for electricity, renewables and gas sector clients globally. We are a Member of the MRC Group (www.mrcgroup-consulting.com)

EMRC is actively seeking to recruit Senior Consultants and Analysts for our team in Edinburgh. We are also seeking to recruit for our team in Abuja.

The person or people we are looking for will probably have:

- First class honours, a Master's degree or PhD in OR, industrial economics, energy systems or a comparable background.
- Problem solving skills, ability to learn quickly and work to deadlines.
- Understanding of the economics and/or regulation of utilities and/or the power sector.
- Relevant experience in utilities or the power sector would be a requirement for the senior positions.

We can offer you the chance to grow your skills by working with an experienced and supportive team on challenging projects. Our work covers a wide range of energy topics – ranging across economic models of the power sector, advising on the development of new electricity regulation, transaction advice, utility performance improvement, tariff models and off-grid energy. There are extensive opportunities for international travel.

We offer competitive salaries commensurate with qualifications and experience. In addition EMRC is owned by its staff; all of the company profits are distributed to employees through our staff bonus scheme. We have a small team, with excellent opportunities to influence the direction of the business and expand your skills.

Applicants are invited to send a CV and short covering letter explaining why you are interested in the role to info@energy-mrc.com
